TYRRELL (JOSEPH BURR) PAPERS

Dates:
[1870]-1957

Extent:
294 boxes and items. 41 metres.

Scope and Content:

Papers document the life of Joseph Burr Tyrrell (1858-1957): geologist, explorer and surveyor for the Geological Survey of Canada, 1881-1898; mining consultant; engineer and businessman, Dawson City, 1899-1905, and Toronto, 1906-1930s; Director and subsequently President of Kirkland Lake Gold Mine, 1924-1955; historian and author. Papers consist of correspondence, reports, notebooks, drafts for articles and books, family papers, maps, large collection of photographs, clippings and memorabilia.

Custodial history:

Papers were bequeathed to the University of Toronto Library by J.B. Tyrrell and came to the Fisher Library following his death in 1957. The Fisher Library holds the copyright and literary rights to J.B. Tyrrell's published and unpublished writings and photographs. Later additions to the collection were received from other family members, most notably from Tom Tyrrell, J.B. Tyrrell's son; Joyce Tyrrell, wife of Tom Tyrrell; Edith Auckland, granddaughter of J.B. Tyrrell.

Box	Folder	CORRESPONDENCE (AUTHOR FILES)
		Author files contain primarily family and personal correspondence to and from JBT. Also includes is significant correspondence with figures of importance (i.e those who appear in standard biographical works). Letters from JBT are generally interfiled with those of his correspondent and filed under the name of the correspondent. An exception is made for long sequences where letters in and letters out are arranged in two chronological sequences, both filed under the name of the correspondent (e.g. JBT's letters to MET).
		Additional correspondence from significant figures may also be found in the chronological correspondence files (Boxes 91-xxx). Copies of JBT's letters prior to 1899 are also to be found in his letterbooks (Box 89) although these do not include family and personal letters.
		Other subject groupings contain additional correspondence (e.g. correspondence pertaining to JBT's historical research; much of his correspondence relating to his work as mining engineer and consultant; material relating to Maplewood Orchards, etc.)

	GEOLOGICAL SURVEY MATERIALS
	FIELD NOTEBOOKS
	This series contains JBT's original holograph diary for his first expedition with the Geological Survey under G. M. Dawson in 1883 and the typed transcripts made from JBT's original filed notebooks for the expeditions from 1884 to 1898. The transcripts were typed by JBT's sister, Lizzie Tyrrell from 189-?, under JBT's direction and have his holograph corrections. The original holograph notebooks, 1884-1898, were retained by the Geological Survey of Canada and are now in the National Archives of Canada.

		HUDSON BAY EXPLORING EXPEDITION MATERIAL
		In May 1912 the Ontario Government, under the Premier, Sir James Whitney, commissioned JBT to lead an expedition to the mouth of the Nelson

		River on Hudson Bay in order to select and survey the lands recently added to the province by a recent act of Parliament. JBT's instructions were to select and survey the best site for a townsite and seaport on Hudson Bay at the mouth of the Nelson or Hayes Rivers (Port Nelson) and to select and survey the most advantageous five-mile strip of land adjoining this site on either the Nelson River or Hudson Bay. In addition the party was to investigate the best location for a further five mile trip of land which the province had been granted, extending east from the Manitoba border to a previously selected point on either the Nelson River or Hudson Bay. The party was to return home through the District of Keewatin, investigating the nature of this area which had been recently added to the province.
		The expedition commenced May 27 when JBT left Toronto for Winnipeg with Prof. L.B. Stewart, his chief Surveyor, and William B. Macpherson and

		AUTOBIOGRAPHICAL AND BIOGRAPHICAL MATERIALS
		Notebooks and Diaries

		Chiefly pocket diaries containing brief entries and records of business, professional, and personal activities and social engagements for each year covered. Diaries covering 1883 to 1898 give details of JBT's expeditions for the Geological Survey of Canada. Many volumes contain brief financial accounts at back. Later volumes have newspaper clippings laid in. Cover most years between 1882 and 1957.
		Microfilm available for most volumes. (mfm. dup. 1) 183

		Notebook containing figures for 1955 accounts. Inserted in notebook labeled Canadian Institute of Mining & Metallurgy, Toronto, 1950. JBT's partial summary of events year by year. Incomplete. Last entries 1931. Several other years left blank.
		AUTOBIOGRAPHICAL NOTES AND DIARY EXTRACTS
		Compiled and extracted by JBT from his diaries and other sources ca.1944-48 in preparation for writing his own autobiography. Covers his life from 1858 to 192. Early years include much original biographical materials (letters, newspaper clippings, reprints of articles, invitations, menus, and other ephemera as well as original photographs). Significant items are noted below. Most of the correspondence, however, as well as the reports on mining properties originally appended to the extracts, was removed at a later date and is to be found elsewhere in the collection. Later years contain little additional materials.

119		1858-1897
		Holograph narrative. Removed from 2 ring binders. Interleaved with clippings, invitations, menus, ephemera, and photographs. Summarizes events year by year.
120		1898-1905
		Chiefly holograph, often in diary form, on foolscap sheets interleaved with business letters, clippings, etc. Note at the end of the account of each year JBT lists his publications for the year.
		Microfilm copy is available. (mfm. dup.)
121		1906-1926
		Chiefly holograph, often in diary form, on foolscap sheets interleaved with business letters, clippings, etc.
Box	Folder	AUTOBIOGRAPHY

		Holograph and typed drafts. Partial drafts only.
		CHRONOLOGICAL FILES (PRINTED MATERIALS)
		These files contain clippings, articles, offprints, programs, menus ephemera, etc. documenting JBT's activities. Printed material written by JBT is in the Bibliography section of this guide. Printed material relating to mining and mines is similarly to be found in that section of the guide. Other subject groupings which include printed materials are: Historical Research; Family History; Maplewood Orchards, following grouping established by JBT himself.
		Material predating JBT's death was collected by him. Some attempt has been made to add material subsequent to his death by the Library.

		GLASS NEGATIVES
		JBT's early photographs were taken with a camera or cameras which used glass plate negatives. The earliest glass negatives date from 1887 and JBT continued to use a glass camera until 1902, although he seems also to have experimented with film negatives before that date. Most of the negatives for JBT's Geological Survey expeditions, 1887-1898, were retained by the Geological Survey's collection and were later transferred to the National Archives of Canada. The glass plate negatives in the Fisher Library's collection are for the most part JBT's personal photographs. Only a few relate to his expeditions for the Geological Survey.
		The negatives are arranged by date and are numbered and indexed. Prints exist for most of them.

Box P249	Copies of original photos. from northern expeditions. 1884; 1894-1905. 25 glass negs. (8x10.5; 6.5x7.5 cm)
	Most of these copy negatives were made by JBT from original prints of photos. taken either by himself or by J.W. Tyrrell. Subjects include Fort Churchill; Kasba Lake; Kazan River; Norway House; the Nelson River and the Saskatchewan River. Many of the negatives have been reproduced from prints in JBT's photograph albums.
	One glass negative is a copy of a photo. of Fort Churchill taken by R. Bell, 1884.

	FILM NEGATIVES
	JBT experimented with roll film as early as 1893. By 1899, when he moved to Dawson City, he had begun to use roll film extensively. There are few surviving original negatives from this early period, however. These early negatives were on nitrate film and by the 1970s they had begun to deteriorate. The Library undertook to have copy negatives made for the negatives dating from the 1890s to 1916. Most of the original nitrate negatives were then discarded. The Library's copy negatives are indexed and filed in Boxes P252-P267. All the surviving original negatives are filed by year in Boxes P250 and P251, as described below.
	JBT himself also had copy negatives on film made from the original prints of photographs he had taken in the 1890s. These are filed in Box P250 under the date of the originals.
	The film negatives are of varying sizes, reflecting JBT's use of several different cameras.

		Microscope slides.
		These slides were prepared or acquired by JBT beginning in 1879. JBT acquired a microscope in 1878. In 1882 he was one of the founding members of the Microscopical Society in Ottawa. He decided to give up the study zoology and entomology in the winter of 1888. Most of the slides would seem to have been collected prior to that date, but some boxes hold slides relating to JBT's later work as a mining consultant.
		Some slides are labeled in JBT's hand and must have been prepared by him. Others are labeled in different hands and must have been acquired by JBT from various sources, including other members of the staff of the Geological Survey. Several of the hand-labelled slides are by T.C. Weston, G.M. Dawson, D.B. Dowling, and other Geological Survey staff. Slides are in special slide boxes. Labels for slide boxes given below.
