Scope and content

Textual, graphic, 1920-1979, 1.80 m. 14 boxes

This fonds consists of the personal records of Karl Ferdinand Maria Helleiner, Professor of Political Economy at the University of Toronto (1942-1973), consisting of publications and manuscripts, addresses, research and lecture notes, examinations, and correspondence. The records are organized in 7 series documenting his career as city archivist of St. Pölten, Austria (1927-1938) and as a professor for over thirty years in the Department of Political Economy at the U of T, where he specialized in European economic history. Many of the records relate to his activities as a historian researching and writing various lectures and addresses, his major books The Imperial Loans: A Study in Financial and Diplomatic History and Free Trade and Frustration: Anglo-Austrian Negotiations 1860-70, as well as the numerous articles and book reviews he published in peer-reviewed journals over the span of his career.

Series 1: Manuscripts and publications

Textual, 1926-1977, 0.55 m.

This series consists of Professor Helleiner's numerous publications and unpublished manuscripts spanning his career during the 1920s and 30s as an archivist in St. Pölten, Austria, and throughout the over 30 years he was an economic historian at the University of Toronto. Records include off-prints of the majority of his publications appearing in European and North American academic journals; unpublished manuscripts and notes; drafts of his books The Imperial Loans: A Study in Financial and Diplomatic History and Free Trade and Frustration: Anglo-Austrian Negotiations 1860-70; chapters in books he edited or contributed to; and numerous review articles and book reviews. Files in this series have been arranged chronologically, with book reviews arranged separately in 8 files at the end of the series.

For a detailed listing of the contents of this series, see Appendix 1.

/001 – /005 (08)

Series 2: Addresses

Textual, 1941-1978, 0.10 m.

The files in this series consist of addresses Helleiner delivered between approximately 1941 and 1978 in Toronto and at a number of international conferences. The addresses cover a range of topics in European economic history which Helleiner was noted for as a scholar and public speaker, including four files of talks on Plato and economic unrest delivered at the Economic History Association annual meeting in 1948 and three files related to "Asceticism and Economic Growth," a paper he delivered at Loyola College in 1974 and as a convocation address at York University in 1978. Aside from addresses, records frequently include research notes, correspondence, and drafts with revisions. Files in this series are arranged chronologically.

For a detailed listing of the contents of this series, see Appendix 2.

Series 3: Lectures and notes

Textual, 1942-1978, 0.34 m.

This series documents Professor Helleiner's teaching career in the Department of Political Economy at the University of Toronto. Records largely consist of his lectures and lecture notes for two courses he taught there entitled 'Economic History of Europe' and 'Problems of Economic Development.' Other teaching material, such as reading lists, outlines, and bibliographies, is occasionally included with the lecture notes. The files are arranged by course in rough chronological order with many files remaining undated.

For a detailed listing of the contents of this series, see Appendix 3.

/006 – /008 (18)

Series 4: Exams

Textual, 1933-1972, 0.05 m.

This series consists of exams from Professor Helleiner's courses at the U of T, a file of PhD comprehensive exam questions he submitted for the Department of Political Economy, and 2 files of exams from courses he taught as a visiting professor at McGill University and at Harvard University Summer School. The files are arranged chronologically by course.
