Administrative History

Cottaging in the Go Home Bay area began in 1898 when The Madawaska Club was formed by a group associated with the University of Toronto who were interested in combining scientific research with recreation. The name was chosen because they originally hoped to acquire land along the Madawaska River south of Algonquin Park. Early activities focused around a clubhouse and research station, but over the next few decades members spread out and established private cottages, many of which still exist. For almost 100 years cottaging in the Go Home Bay area was restricted to people associated with the University of Toronto under the terms of the original Charter, but that restriction is gone and now all cottagers from The Hangdog to Indian Harbour are welcome to join The Madawaska Club at Go Home Bay. Many of the area cottagers are also shareholders in The Madawaska Club Limited which owns over 1600 acres of undeveloped land in the Go Home Bay area.

Scope and content

[c. 1895] – 1983

2.87 m of textual and graphic records (19 boxes; 1 oversized photograph)

Series 3: Photographs

[c. 1895] – 1972

7 boxes of graphic records

Scope and content: Consists of photographs, photoprints, and negatives documenting club activities at Go Home Bay and Hope Island; dedication of the Soldiers' Tower; convocations and official visits of dignitaries such as Viscount Allenby (1926) and Lord Wellington (1926); and maps of Go Home Bay and surrounding areas

B1974-0015 primarily consists of photo albums that were compiled and maintained by Professors C.A. Chant; G.R. Anderson; and Grant Robertson, a Professor of Classics at Victoria College who married Elizabeth Chant.

B1976-0022 consists of eight albums that belonged to the Anderson Family.

See Series 3 in the Appendix for a file listing.

Note: In B1974-0015, there are notecards tucked into the Chant: 1 file which add information to the photographs in the Chant album. Some of these notecards have been used to create the descriptions for the Chant albums, but researchers may wish to consult them in addition. Much of the descriptive information about Robertson Album B was provided by C. Trusler and I. Tomlinson.

Note: For B1976-0022, contact prints were made of negatives before they deteriorated. Duplicate negatives have been made of a number but not all prints. Image number refers to the red number on the back, also visible on many of the negatives. Images that have not been duplicated are indicated by (ND) after image number. The descriptions were provided by the photographer unless enclosed in [square] brackets. The albums all belonged to the Anderson family.

Arrangement: The photographs from each accession have been arranged independently. B1974-0015/001P – /003P consists of albums that have been disassembled. They are indicated as A, B, or C in the file description to identify the original albums. The page order has been kept. B1976-0022/001P consists of eight photo albums that have been disassembled.
