Biographical history

Lee Bartel is Professor Emeritus of Music Education and Music and Health, and the founding director of the Music and Health Research Collaboratory (MaHRC) at the University of Toronto.

See his University of Toronto profile: <https://music.utoronto.ca/our-people.php?fid=6>.

Lee Bartel's musical stamp collection

Date range: 1927-1985

Extent: 1 cm of philatelic records (561 stamps)

Collection consists of 27 pages of stamps featuring composers, musicians, musical instruments, scenes from operas and ballets, folk dances, theatres, opera houses, and music conservatories and academies. Each page of stamps was arranged by Lee Bartel.

Arrangement: Stamps were originally housed in simple, black frames, some of which contained multiple different stamps, and others which featured a sheet of one particular stamp. The stamps were removed from the frames for preservation, but the presentation and arrangement by Lee Bartel was maintained. Each previously-framed page of stamps is assigned a unique alphabetic code (A, B, C, etc.) and stamps are numbered sequentially within each page.
