Scope and Content

1950-1992 5.16 m. textual

This accession includes records from the following series documenting Dr. Peter Yates, an organic chemist first appointed to the Department of Chemistry from Harvard University in 1960:

I	Chronological Correspondence Files
II	Subject Files
III	Research and Publications
IV	Course Files
V	Canadian Journal of Chemistry - Editor

ACCESS: All Series are open except Series V to which restrictions do apply. See Series descriptions for details.

Biographical Note

Born in 1924 in Essex England, Dr. Peter Yates received degrees from the University of London, Dalhousie University and Yale University. After teaching at Harvard from 1952-60, he was appointed Professor of Chemistry at the University of Toronto where he remained throughout his accomplished career. In addition to numerous prestigious lectureships, editorial positions and awards, he was appointed University Professor in 1986 and later University Professor Emeritus in 1990. Believing that his students and his collaborators were testimony to the success of his work, he supervised over 50 doctoral theses. He was widely recognized for his pioneering research in the photochemistry of organic molecules, publishing over 230 articles in refereed journals and a book on the structural implications of spectroscopic data, which became the standard reference source in that field. Dr. Yates died on November 16 1992.

SERIES I Chronological Correspondence Files

1974-1982 0.2 m.

Outgoing correspondence documenting many of Yates' professional activities including research, teaching and administration. Does not contain any incoming correspondence and some pieces may be duplicate of copies in other series.

ACCESS: Open

SEE: Box 015

SERIES II Subject Files

1962-1982 0.13 m.

Includes files on tours and lectures, the Advisory Committee on the University of Toronto Library system, National Research Council Grants, Journal of American Chemical Society and the Awards Committee for the Royal Society of Canada. Files mainly contain correspondence, agendas, memos, and in the case of grants, research proposals and reports.

Arrangement is chronological.

ACCESS: Open

SEE: Box 016

SERIES III Research and Publications

1950-1990 3.44 m.

These files represent the most extensive series in this accession. They document quite extensively three decades of Yates' work and contributions in the field of organic chemistry. Files can contain a number of different types of records ranging from correspondence to manuscripts, to research reports, to original data and research notes. Those that relate specifically to publications often contain revised manuscripts and referees' reports.

Dr. Yates arranged his research and publication files alphabetically by the name of the person with whom he was engaged in research and/or publishing. To facilitate access to this series, a file list as well as a list of Yates' publications have been provided. Should researchers wish to consult this series regarding a specific area of research or a specific publication, they are advised to consult the bibliography first, noting the names of the colleagues with whom he published and then request the files on these individuals by consulting the file list.

ACCESS: OpenSEE: For further description, see Appendix A.SERIES IV Course Files

1954-90 0.2 m.

Includes selective exams, problems, research reports, lecture notes and reference to readings for chemistry courses taught by Yates at the University of Toronto and to a lesser extent Harvard University where he began his career as an academic.

Arranged by course.

ACCESS: OpenSEE: Box 015

SERIES V Canadian Journal of Chemistry - Editor

1989-1992 1.19 m.

These files were created by Yates in his capacity as editor of the Canadian Journal of Chemistry. Arrangement is by original file number which reflects the order in which a manuscript was received for review in a given year. Additional file title information includes the primary author's name. Files usually include original and revised manuscripts, correspondence among the author(s), the editor (Yates) and the referees, referees' comments and recommendations.

ACCESS: Restrictions Apply - Closed for 30 years from latest date of file activity. Requests for access should be made to the University Archivist.
