Scope and Content:

File contains personal letters received and sent by Dr. Millman. There is a large collection of letters written by Dr. Millman to his mother during his time in Europe while conducting research at the Archives. He sailed to Scotland from Quebec on May 27, 1938 on the Duchess and returned September 10 1938 on the Empress of Australia; he served as the ship chaplain on both trips. The letters contain descriptions of the conditions aboard the ship and the journey. In the first letter of the group he advised his mother to “keep these jottings by you. I shall enjoy looking over them when I get home.” The subsequent letters talk a good deal of the sights and tours he went on from Scotland down to London. Along the way he visited Glasgow, Edinburgh, Durham, Leeds, Lincoln, Ely, Cambridge, arriving in London at the start of July to start his research on Bishop Stewart at the SPG Archives. There is another collection of letters from Dr. Millman to his mother during his second research trip to London in 1949. At this time he was married and his wife Margaret was travelling with him.
