ATWOOD, MARGARET
Papers, 1953-ongoing
207 boxes & items (52 metres)

Drafts and final typescripts of her literary works (poems, stories, dramatic works, novels, non fiction works); original art work; correspondence; a little juvenilia.

Acquired from the author on a continuing basis, from 1970 to the present. The major accession occurred in 1981.

Margaret Atwood retains copyright and literary rights to all material written by her. To obtain permission to publish material from her archives, please contact fisher.library@utoronto.ca.

Atwood home page: <http://www.owtoad.com>

The bulk of the collection consists of holograph drafts and typescripts of Atwood's literary works. Galleys and page proofs exist for some items but not for all. First published appearances of poems, short stories, essays, etc. in periodicals are sometimes included with the drafts but are not as a rule present in the collection. Many of the periodicals containing her work are in the Library.

The papers also contains considerable unpublished material, including poems, short stories, radio and television scripts, drafts of two novels, and Atwood's unfinished doctoral thesis.

Most of the correspondence in the collection relates to the editing and publication of literary works. Some personal letters are included in the earlier correspondence. Personal correspondence after 1967 is restricted. There is very little memorabilia or printed material documenting Atwood's career. The focus of the collection is almost completely on Atwood's literary work. Biographical material exists only for the pre 1967 years.
